Goldfine Clams Up, Contempt Vote Seen

Khrushchev Blasts Tito For 'Errors'

Stalin's Attack In 1948 Endorsed, Says Yugos 'Sold Souls'

By JOSEPH B. FLEMING

BERLIN (UPI) — Soviet Premier, Nikita S. Khrushchev, denounced Marshal Tito today and said Yugoslavia had sold its soul to the west for American "alms."

Then he sped home to Moscow by jet plane.

In a blistering two-hour speech to the East German Communist Party Congress in East Berlin, he questioned Yugoslavia's right even to call itself Communist.

Khrushchev endorsed the 1948 Stalin attack on Yugoslavia and said the Yugoslavs were even worse now.

Cites Stalin Mistake

He stopped just short of an open break with Yugoslavia by saying the 1948 attack directed by Stalin made the mistake of calling on the Yugoslavs to overthrow their leaders.

Bruno Leuschner, East German Politburo candidate member, told the Congress Khrushchev had left because of "urgent business" in Moscow. But the East German news service ADN said Khrushchev, who arrived Tuesday, had planned all along to leave today.

Other members of the Soviet delegation, including Defense Minister Marshal Rodin Malinovsky, remained in East Berlin.

Khrushchev's attack on Yugoslavia was a clear warning to the whole Communist world to follow the Moscow-dictated line.

He blamed the revival of the split between Yugoslavia and the Soviet bloc directly on Tito's alleged slanderous attacks on the Soviet Union.

Seen Warning To Poland
Western observers saw the speech as particularly warning Poland, the most liberal of Soviet satellites, against any further move to the right.

Khrushchev said Yugoslavia had sold out Socialism for American "alms" and that Yugoslavia is "shamefully concealing the fact that it has received other American alms."

"The Americans do not give out money for nothing," Khrushchev said. "You have to sell your soul to get it."

He said Tito had disclosed his leadership of the anti-Soviet campaign in a speech attacking Russia and its leaders, followed by "open attacks" on Russia, Red China and other Communist nations by other Yugoslavs.

"The Yugoslavs showed their true facts at their party congress," Khrushchev said. "They adopted a clear, non-Marxist line. This has its good side. Until then some comrades could talk of improving relations with Yugoslavia. But we saw at the Yugoslav Congress that this was not the Yugoslav aim."

Action Due As He Balks At Question

Magnate, Declares Business Affairs Are Not Relevant

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counsel for House investigators today accused Bernard Goldfine of contempt of Congress after the Boston industrialist refused to answer 23 questions about his financial affairs.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine today declined to answer a specially prepared question from House investigators after they slapped a subpoena on him. The refusal paved the way for a vote to cite Goldfine for contempt. The moves were expected as Goldfine, gift-giving friend of presidential aide Sherman Adams, took the witness stand for a fifth day of testimony under oath. The hearing went on tensely in a packed room as both sides prepared for a showdown in the sensational inquiry into Goldfine's relations with federal agencies and officials.

Harris Reads Statement

Goldfine was served the subpoena as he entered the hearing room. Until then he had been a voluntary witness, though fighting with the congressmen over their questions.

Subcommittee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) read the Boston industrialist a long, prepared statement, declaring the subcommittee's job was to check into how regulatory agencies are carrying out the law.

Harris said Goldfine's East Boston Co., a holding firm, had gone for eight years without filing reports required by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Next Harris had the subcommittee counsel, Robert W. Lishman, read a specific question about a $20,000 withdrawal he alleged Goldfine made from a subsidiary of the company. Goldfine declined to answer this question yesterday, saying it was not pertinent to the investigation.

"Mr. Lishman," Goldfine firmly replied today, "I respectfully decline to answer because the matter is not relevant."

Goldfine said the question went into his own business affairs rather than the matter of regulatory agencies. And furthermore, he said, the subject is under judicial inquiry.

Harris asked if Goldfine considered Lishman's question not pertinent.

"Yes sir, I do," Goldfine said. Harris ruled the question was indeed relevant to the inquiry.

"Therefore I direct you to answer, Mr. Goldfine," Harris said.

Declines To Answer

"Mr. Chairman," Goldfine persisted, "I decline to answer for the reasons given before."

A deputy marshal slipped the subpoena into the hand of the 67-year-old Boston industrialist as he walked into the room. The paper fell to the floor and Goldfine walked right on to the witness stand.

But Atty. Samuel Sears said Goldfine, gift-giving friend of presidential aide Sherman Adams, wasn't rejecting the subpoena at all.

"Sure he's served," Sears said. "He didn't know what it was and it dropped on the floor."

Sears said Goldfine did not mean to show disrespect. "I didn't throw it on the floor," Goldfine said.

The Boston millionaire then went to the witness chair seemingly ready for a battle with the congressmen that could wind up with a citation for contempt.

Service of the subpoena was complete after Goldfine took his place at the witness stand.

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — Thirty-three atomic submariners have been flown 10,000 miles to spend a weekend at home.

The 29 enlisted men and 4 officers of the USS Nautilus arrived Thursday from Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, on a weekend liberty.

The liberties expire Sunday and the men will return to their craft which is participating in Pacific maneuvers.

Groton is the home of the U.S. Atlantic Submarine Fleet and all of the men have families here.

Probers Quiz Gangster In Murder Plot

Ex-Capone Lawyer Shunned Senators' Inquiry Questions

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chicago gangster Tony Accardo sought refuge behind the Fifth Amendment at the Senate racket hearings today, and lost an appeal to prevent the televising of his appearance.

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Chicago gangster Tony Accardo was offered a chance today to tell Senate probers whether he had a hand in an alleged plot to murder Abraham Teitelbaum.

Teitelbaum, onetime lawyer to gangster Al Capone, listened Thursday to police testimony describing the alleged 1934 conspiracy to fling him from his 10th floor office in the Chicago Fine Arts Building.

He had just invoked the Fifth Amendment many times, refusing to answer questions about this or any other matter on grounds he might incriminate himself.

The Senate Rackets Committee previously had heard testimony linking Teitelbaum and Accardo, reputed overlord of vice and rackets in Chicago, with an alleged protection racket in the rich Chicago restaurant industry.

Chicago Detective Lt. Joseph Morris swore Thursday he had learned of a plot in which gangsters Louis (Needle Nose) LaBriola and James Weinberg were to kill Teitelbaum and try to make it appear as suicide.

The lieutenant said his superiors sent him to warn Teitelbaum, adding: "When I told him, he was really upset about it. Mr. Teitelbaum fully believed they intended to kill him."

Morris said the circumstances indicated Accardo might have been the authority behind those planning the execution. He said LaBriola and Weinberg later were found slain by poison, their bodies in the trunk of an automobile.

Cardinal Listed Improved After Surgery On Leg

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Alojzije Cardinal Stepinac is making excellent progress after an operation to relieve a blood clot in his right leg, his doctor said today.

But Dr. Branislav Bogicevic added that the 60-year-old cardinal's general state of health still was uncertain. The spiritual leader of Yugoslavia's seven million Roman Catholics has been suffering for some years from polycythemia, a blood disease caused by an excess of red corpuscles.

Ship Wreckage Bought By Japs

DARWIN, Australia (AP) — The submerged wreckage of the U.S. destroyer Peary and three troopships, sunk by Japanese bombers in 1942, has been sold to a Japanese salvage company.

Two of the troopships were American, the third Australian. Their superstructures can be seen in the harbor at low tide but the Peary lies in deeper water.

Eighty of the Peary's crew went down with the ship.

Steels In Demand

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels were in demand as the stock market resumed its rise in moderately active trading early today.

Shot In Foot

Posse Nabs Crazy Slayer Of Children

REGINA, N. M. — New Mexico State Police today wounded and captured a bearded recluse who Thursday slew two children. Police identified the captured man as Nelson A. Foose, 47. They said he once spent six months in an Idaho mental hospital.

Six officers, led by Sgt. Milton Matteson of Santa Fe, closed in on the hermit's camp at dawn.

"I told him to come out and throw down his gun," Matteson said. "He came out in the road with his hands up, but with the rifle still with him."

"I told him again to throw down the gun, and fired a warning shot into the bank. He didn't, and one of the officers shot him in the foot."

Regina is a tiny hamlet in the mountains of Sandoval County, about 100 miles north of Albuquerque.

About 100 men surrounded the camp where Foose Thursday night shot and wounded Sam Hill, one of the posse members.

The man had shot and killed two children on the streets of Cuba, N. M., and wounded the mother of one of them.

The bald, bearded Foose chatted calmly with four sweating officers who were carrying him down the mountainside.

"What were all you fellows doing out there?" Foose asked. "We were looking for you."

"I didn't know what was going on," Foose said. "I wondered what all you fellows were doing out there."

"How does it feel to be shot?" an officer asked.

"It hurts," Foose said. "Well," the officer said, "there is two people that don't hurt any more."

Foose had been prospecting for uranium in the area for about six months.

The slayer left his camp about noon Thursday and drove to the mountain town of Cuba, a farming village of less than 500, about 75 miles northwest of Albuquerque.

Driving up in front of a grocery store, he stopped and leveled his deer rifle across the car window.

"I thought he was just bringing his rifle in to pawn it," said Weldon Vernon, clerk in the grocery store. "Then he fired. I ran out and the little girl was laying there. Then he shot a little boy and drove off as if he weren't in too much of a hurry."

Thieves Steal $87, Take Victim's Pants

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Richard Briningstool, 27, was on his way to the bank Thursday to make a car payment when two youths stopped him. They robbed him of $87 then tore off his pants so he couldn't follow them.

Safe Drivers' Leader Fined

Three Judges To Hear Race Appeal Aug. 4

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Three U. S. appeals court judges will begin hearing arguments Aug. 4 about the advisability of a second year of racial integration at Central High School in Little Rock.

An issue is an order by Federal Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley at Little Rock which would postpone integration at Central for 30 months.

The Aug. 4 date was suggested by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, which appealed Lemley's ruling.

The hearing will probably be in St. Louis, where the appeals court generally sits.

Judges selected to hear the appeal are John B. Sanborn, St. Paul, Minn.; Martin D. Van Oosterhout, Range City, Iowa; and Harvey M. Johnson, Omaha, Neb.

PANAMA (AP) — University students, who openly oppose Panama's President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr., have asked for a meeting with Milton Eisenhower during the four-day visit he begins Saturday.

The Panama University Students' Union said Eisenhower's visit offered an opportunity to present demands for "clear, definite sovereignty" for Panama in the Panama Canal Zone, which is under U.S. jurisdiction.

Eisenhower, the president of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, will begin a Central American tour here.

Queen's Picture Cannot Be Used In Safety Drive

LONDON (AP) — Buckingham Palace has refused an industrial safety organization permission to use Queen Elizabeth II as its pinup girl.

The British Safety Council posters show the queen in white miniskirt, safety boots and helmet.

The posters, which carry the photograph of Elizabeth dressed for a trip into a mine in Scotland last week, would go up in hundreds of pits throughout the world to help make people safety clothing conscious.

Typhoon Viola Heads Toward Iwo Jima Base

TOKYO (AP) — The 500 American sailors and airmen on Iwo Jima prepared today for winds up to 50 m.p.h. as Typhoon Viola swirled north in the Pacific.

The 100-mile-wide storm is expected to pass west of the World War II battlefront by Saturday, the U. S. Air Force said.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian air force reportedly bombed bivouacs in central Sumatra Thursday believed occupied by ministers of the rebel government.

Government forces have been pursuing the remnants of the rebels since their chief Sumatran holdings were overrun in April.

Ike Returns, New Defense Plan Set Up

OTTAWA (AP) — President Eisenhower wings back to Washington today from an air-clearing Canadian-American summit conference that produced a trio of concrete decisions.

In three days of informal, card-on-the-table talks, the President and Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker agreed that:

(1) A joint cabinet committee on continental defense will be created; (2) the two governments will work on plans for safeguards against surprise attacks across the arctic; (3) consultations will be held on lower levels to try to dissolve differences over trade with Communist China by Canadian subsidiaries of U.S. companies.

While time will test the practical value of these agreements, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty pronounced them important and good steps forward.

Hagerty said the closer personal relationship established between the two heads of government "is very good for both our countries."

Eisenhower, he said, "believes very much that this was a very worthwhile meeting."

Diefenbaker told the House of Commons a spirit of consideration had been shown for each other's problems that "bodes well for the future."

Eisenhower's visit came at a time when relations between the two countries have been marred by increasing Canadian complaints about various U.S. programs and policies.

Cuban Rebels Free Airman, Rate Is Slow

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP) — Cuban rebels have begun releasing the American servicemen they kidnapped nearly two weeks ago but it appeared their rate of return from Fidel Castro's mountain hideouts would be slow.

The first of the 30 servicemen, Airman Thomas R. Mosness of Ames, Iowa, was brought back Thursday several hours after the commander of the Atlantic Fleet, Adm. Jerauld Wright, flew to the U.S. naval base on Guantanamo Bay and voiced sharp irritation over the prolonged captivity of the men.

U.S. Consul Park Wollam, who has been negotiating for the release of the men, returned with Mosness and said the rebels were moving the sailors and Marines to a place where a Navy helicopter could pick them up, but the rugged mountain terrain was slowing down the operation.

The rebels also still hold one Canadian civilian. Nineteen North American civilians have been freed in small groups over the past 10 days.

Robeson Departs From New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Robeson left here by plane Thursday for London with his first passport since he was barred from foreign travel in 1950.

Robeson's concert schedule includes appearances in Prague and the Soviet Union.

The Negro singer received his passport after the Supreme Court invalidated the State Department's requirement that he sign a non-Communist affidavit.

Planes Seek Mouse And Missile's Cone

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Three specially equipped Air Force planes skimmed over the Atlantic early today in a last-resort search for a vital top-secret nose cone and its mouse passenger.

The nose cone, a highly advanced design that may spearhead the missiles of the future, splashed into the Atlantic near Ascension Island after the first successful U.S. ballistic missile flight through space at intercontinental range.

The impact area was 1,000 miles off the African coast and more than 6,000 miles from the Cape.

Canaveral launching site where a Thor-Able rocket blasted into space Wednesday night.

The Air Force announced that the missile's flight and re-entry into the earth's fiery atmosphere was a complete success, but attempts to retrieve the nose cone had been stymied.

The mouse was housed in an airtight capsule inside the cone. It was the first living creature to fly so far into space aboard a U.S. missile.

Officials said search units had trouble pinpointing the location because a small automatic radio transmitter inside the cone failed to operate rapidly.

Probe Opens Into West Va. Mine Deaths

SOPHIA, W. Va. (AP) — The State Mines Department started its investigation today into the gas explosion which killed three miners who went into the Slab Fork Coal Co. No. 1 mine to do a single day's maintenance work.

The burned bodies of the three were reached and brought out yesterday after a 16-hour search by about 50 would-be rescuers.

The victims interrupted their annual vacation to start pumps needed for the planned reopening of the Raleigh County mine on Monday. They set to work Wednesday morning. When, by 11 o'clock that night, they had not come out, their worried families notified company officials and the search was started.

It ended about 4 p.m. yesterday when a rescue crew of seven men found the bodies strewn within a 50-foot radius of the mine, a jeep used for transportation to the spot, about 2½ miles into the slope mine.

The explanation given for the explosion was that methane gas seeped into the mine tunnel and was ignited, possibly by a spark from a motor.

Zionist Official Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Miss Pearl Franklin, 73, a lawyer and former schoolteacher and a leader in Zionist organizations for many years, died Thursday. She had served as president of the Chicago chapter of Hadassah from 1921 to 1930, and then was named honorary president for life.

Senate Floor Fight Set On Ike's Trade Program

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON—Eisenhower administration officials today pledged a Senate floor fight to defeat Finance Committee amendments which would restrict the reciprocal trade program.

They apparently could count on help from the Democratic leadership. Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said he opposed two of the principal amendments.

Committee Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said he understood the debate might begin by the middle of next week. A bitter battle was in prospect.

The House had passed a five-year extension by the program in substantially the form President Eisenhower asked. But the Senate Finance Committee, in approving the bill Thursday, added a series of amendments which would limit the President's powers in negotiating lower tariffs with other countries.

The administration indicated today it was not too seriously concerned about one of the changes — to cut the extension period from five to three years. A four-year compromise with the House is possible on this. The same amendment cut from 25 to 15 per cent the maximum tariff reduction.

But Commerce and State Department officials took sharp issue with another amendment designed to protect domestic industries which claim damage from imports. In such cases, the Tariff Commission can recommend import quotas or higher tariffs under what is called the escape clause, but the President now can reject the recommendations if he sees fit.

Under the Senate amendment,

U. S. Cancels 'Tokyo Rose' Ouster Move

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Efforts to deport Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino, known to GIs as Tokyo Rose for her propaganda efforts over the Japanese radio during World War II, have been dropped.

District Immigration Director Bruce Barber said Thursday the federal government canceled the warrant for Mrs. D'Aquino's arrest for deportation because of a U. S. Supreme Court decision.

The court held the citizenship of a soldier who deserted in Germany could not be canceled after he returned to U. S. territory.

Mrs. D'Aquino, now 42, was graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles. She was in Japan visiting relatives when World War II broke out.

After the war she was arrested in Japan and convicted of treason at a trial in San Francisco. She served 6 years and 2 months of a 10-year sentence before being paroled in 1956.

Crimes Increase In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Serious crimes in the nation's capital rose by almost 10 per cent during the fiscal year that ended June 30.

That's the word from Metropolitan Police Chief Robert V. Murray.

He said yesterday that the increase was the largest in years and was attributable chiefly to an upsurge in petty larcenies.

For the year just ended, he said, there were 17,292 serious crimes reported, compared to 15,783 the previous year.

Treasury Buys Up Bonds To Reduce Over Supply

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Some of Uncle Sam's bonds have been having a hard time in the market. So the U. S. Treasury has been buying up its own recent issues to reduce the oversupply.

The aim is to bolster prices and to keep the weakness from spreading to other issues—including new offerings by states and municipal ities, some of which have had rough sailing this week. Unsettling of the general bond and money markets at this stage of the recession would be painful to the economy. Also, the Treasury needs a strong market because it must raise a lot more cash in coming months.

Speculators operating on thin margins get most of the blame for the sharp drop in the price of the 2½ per cent issue of June 15. They put up a little cash on the original price of the bonds, hoping to make a quick killing by selling at a profit. Instead, the price soon weakened and in recent days dropped sharply as speculators began dumping their thinly protected holdings.

But part of the trouble seems to be that the Treasury found it self issuing more of these six-year, eight-month bonds than it had planned. It thought it knew how many of the bonds would be bought by commercial banks in its exchange offer for other securities coming due. Instead, almost 7½ billion dollars were taken by banks.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Foreign Aid Cut

IF THE SENATE should not materially enlarge this year's appropriation for foreign aid, President Eisenhower will lose about one fourth of the sum he requested to help our allies. Senate Democratic leaders suggest that the upper chamber may do little to restore the $872 million cut made by the House from the President's original $3,950,000,000. The GOP leader, Senator Knowland, is somewhat more hopeful, but his party is not in command. The House verdict was one of the stiffest slaps ever administered against a foreign aid bill.

ONE OF THE interesting aspects of that outcome was the fact that in the only roll call vote of consequence, on a proposal to send the bill back to committee to be upped by $75 million, Democrats accounted for 140 of the 314 votes which blocked the move. They supplied just 60 of the 165 votes favoring the increase. The House Democratic leadership did nothing to exhort its membership to restore any of the eliminated funds. They were said to believe that the impending verdict reflected the present unpopularity of foreign aid in this country, and that any effort to raise the total would surely fail. In the latter event, it was said, there would be less than the usual likelihood that the House could accept at least part of any increases the Senate might vote. It would look too much like a turn-around.

WHATEVER the explanation for the Democratic majority against higher funds, the result looks odd against the party's standing claim as the historic friend of foreign aid. Aside from the fact that Republicans turned out to be the program's chief friends in the House, the most interesting thing seems to be that nobody was very much interested one way or the other. With foreign aid now 10 years old, argument and debate has worn thin. The reasoning behind reductions is often vaguely uttered and little reported. Presidential bursts on the other side produce only brief flare-ups. If the case for ample foreign aid is still as strong as Mr. Eisenhower and a good many others proclaim, then this circumstance obviously has not been registered fully and properly in the minds of either Congress or the people of the United States.

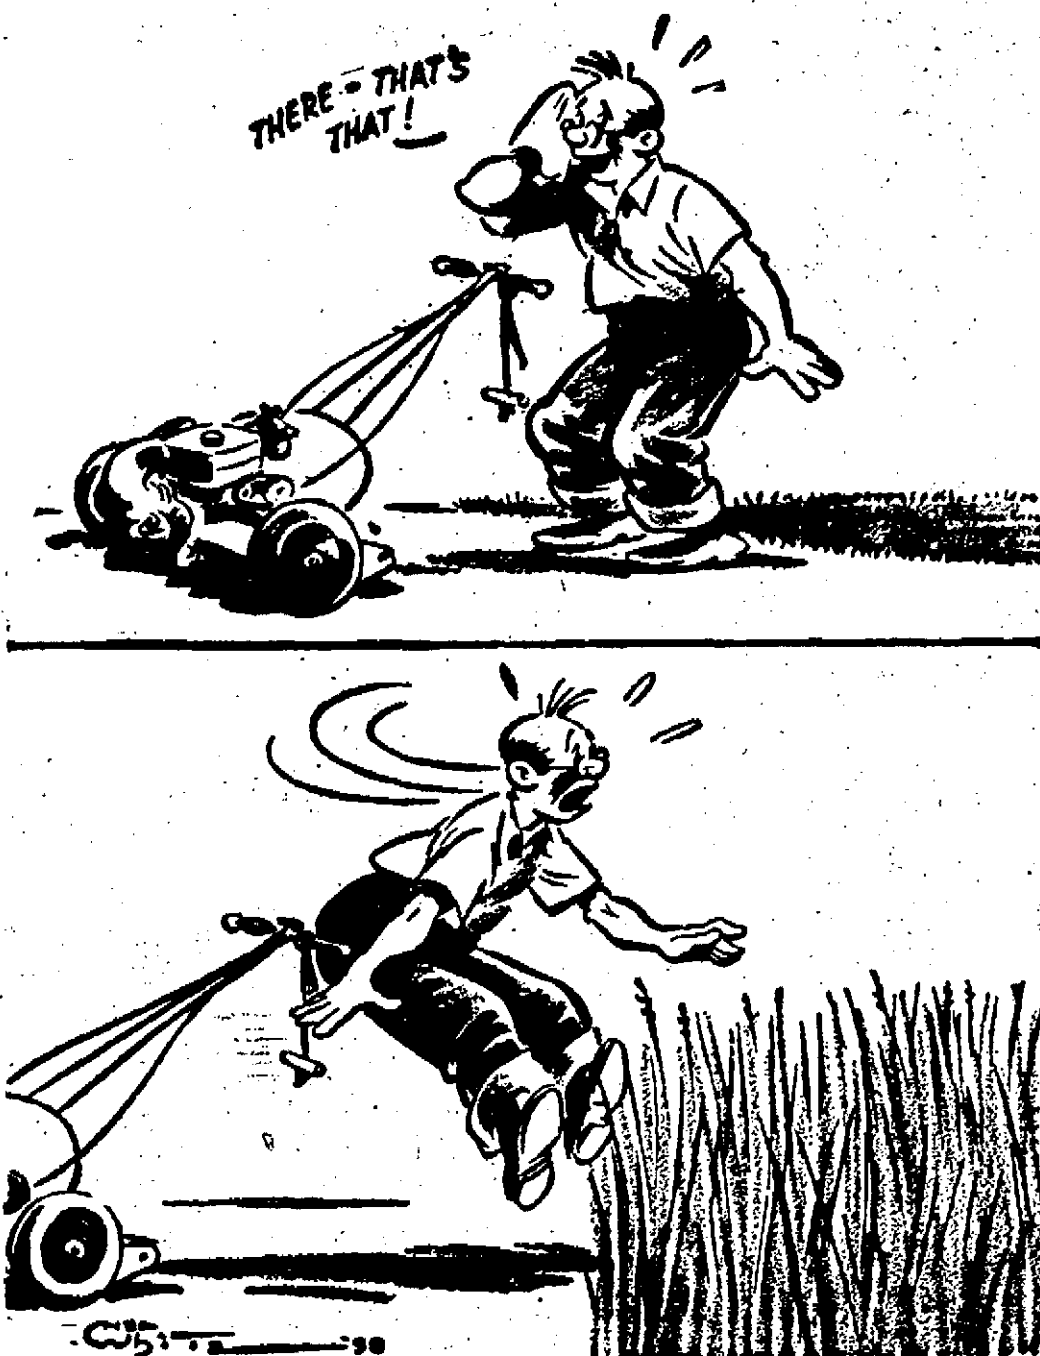

Welcome To Science

IT WAS RECENTLY proposed that a scientific meeting in connection with the International Geophysical Year be held in Washington. Haunted by the spectre of a Communist Chinese delegation free to roam in the District of Columbia, the Department of State declined to issue the invitation. To make this tart the more sour, Moscow picked up the chance and invited the 66 nations to come to Russia for their meeting. The invitation was accepted, and the sessions will be in August. Withdrawal of the Communist Chinese from the IGY has emboldened the State Department to invite remaining nations to a post mortem meeting next year in or near Washington. But that is not a complete recovery from a rather embarrassing situation. Scientists like to hold international conclaves for discussion of findings and problems; it is one of the best roads to scientific progress. The position of the State Department is that meetings held here with delegations from unrecognized nations in attendance would tend to give those nations some recognition. That is a problem, certainly. Still, the bad effects might be outweighed by the advantage of scotching the notion that America is inhospitable to the world's scientists.

The Big Bite

WHEN ELFRIDA von Nardoff ended her 21-week reign in the isolation booth of the quiz show, "Twenty-One," it served as a brusque reminder of how stiff the U. S. income tax law is in the upper brackets. As the all-time quiz money winner, Elfrida took home a check for $220,500. Yet "take home" is hardly the phrase. She'll be lucky if she gets to keep $50,000. The federal government will take the rest. In the upper reaches of income, the tax rates come close to being confiscatory. The wonder is that anybody bothers to push his earnings to these levels. Washington must love the smart ones like Elfrida. You'd think they'd almost be willing to assign bodyguards, or at least plunk down some heavy insurance, to protect 'em until they can make their pile—and pass it on.

Press Agents Dynamic In Goldfine Case

WASHINGTON—The explosive growth of public relations as a profession, which has long been a matter of concern to serious reporters, has strikingly come to the fore in the Bernard Goldfine story.

For the first few days Goldfine's well-staged rehearsals of his statement to the Harris subcommittee reduced it to the status of a second-run movie house with a stale attraction.

It is probable that many television viewers thought they were watching him face his inquisitors; what they actually saw was an artful presentation under the coaching, not even of his lawyers, but of experts in forming public opinion for propaganda purposes.

FEW PEOPLE are aware that Sherman Adams did precisely the same thing with his statement before the subcommittee. Adams utilized White House facilities and a select circle was present to observe and to advise on his dress rehearsal which the TV viewers actually saw.

Reporters conscious of their responsibilities are covering, where possible, both rehearsals and hearings and trying to make plain the distinction between the two. For a good reporter knows he must "see the whites of their eyes" and is entitled to take into account the demeanor of the witness.

IT MAY conceivably be of interest to bar associations that this technique has been adopted in the present instance, not by lawyers for show business, but by presumed leaders of their profession in matters involving the integrity of the government itself.

Roger Robb, Goldfine's chief counsel, was counsel for Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission, in the case of Dr. Robert Oppenheimer; his associate counsel, Samuel Sears of Boston, is described as equally reputable.

Robb's association with the original unpaid volunteer to burnish up the Goldfine testimony, Tex McCrary, was somewhat vague. But now he is appearing in pictures with an investigator who investigates the subcommittee investigators and a paid public relations counsel who calls press conferences at midnight and has a professional model as a press receptionist.

SHE IS A very pretty girl, too, and in a sense the reporters never had it so good. The effect on some of them has been to drive them to cups of coffee in a perhaps losing effort to keep their sense of reality intact, though the supplies of food and stronger drink remain plentiful.

Television is barred from House hearings by fiat of Speaker Sam Rayburn. It may be that what is happening here is worse than any evils the Speaker foresaw in admitting the magic lanterns into the sacred precincts of the House.

Certainly Goldfine, having got his story before the public in terms satisfactory to experts, contentedly filibustered the Harris subcommittee at the start.

THE PRESS is involved in the general razzle-dazzle through the disclosure that a reporter hired the hotel room next to Goldfine and loaned it to the now-fired chief investigator for the subcommittee.

The chief responsibility for getting the inquiry back on the track rests with Chairman Harris. He is coldly angry, but anger will not be enough and his reaction in hiring a press agent for the subcommittee is hardly an encouraging sign.

Hoffa Makes Bid For Respectability

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Notorious James Riddle ("Jimmy") Hoffa of the Teamsters Union has formally opened a campaign here to gain acceptance as a respectable and responsible labor union "statesman."

This came out of his announcement here on July 3 of a new Conference on Transportation Unity. Joining him in the statement were Joseph Curran of the National Maritime Union, AFL-CIO, and Capt. William B. Bradley of the Independent International Longshoremen's Association, expelled from the AFL for racketeer domination in 1953.

Hoffa's assistants were quick to call this "the biggest thing that has happened in the American Labor movement since John L. Lewis walked out of the AFL to form CIO."

Skeptics were equally quick to minimize the sweeping nature of this statement. They also take with large doses of salt any assertions that Jimmy Hoffa is anything more or different from what the Senate's McClellan committee labor racketeering investigation made him out.

THEY EXPRESS doubt and will have to be shown before they will believe that Hoffa has turned over any new leaves.

But the stable of Hoffa press agents is now playing the harp that, "Jimmy Hoffa is going to become the biggest labor leader in the country." And that will be something to watch.

"The International Teamster," monthly house organ of the big union which was expelled from the AFL-CIO last year on charges of corruption, devotes its current issue to refuting all the critical pieces that national magazines have been printing about Hoffa.

The wash job consists of a showing that Hoffa has not been convicted in any of the court tests filed against him by the U. S. government. The charges have included bribery, wire-tapping, embezzlement and court injunctions which for a time kept him from the Teamsters' presidency.

According to "The Teamster," the latest acquittal "cleans the slate." And the effort to promote Hoffa from the position of a "local irritation" to a "national menace" is said to have been disproved.

REGARDLESS of all this window-dressing, the new "Conference on Transportation Unity" which Hoffa has now unveiled is considered important in labor union politics. Just how important it will be has yet to be shown. Whether it will mean future labor warfare has also to be shown.

The plan in brief is to invite three representatives from each of some 50 international unions in the transportation industry to a larger conference at the end of August. A formal organization will be perfected then.

Hoffa, Curran and Bradley insist they have no intention of forming a new labor federation to compete with AFL-CIO. Curran is now a vice president of that organization and a member of its ethical practices committee.

"If there was any idea of forming another federation," says Curran, "I wouldn't be in this conference."

Hoffa, Curran and Bradley also insist they are not trying to set up a labor "monopoly" that might be attacked under the antitrust laws by Department of Justice.

THE 100-WORD announcement of the conference signed by Hoffa, Curran and Bradley said its purpose would be "to resolve . . . jurisdictional differences, provide mutual assistance and . . . promote progress and stability in the transportation industry."

Hoffa was elected temporary chairman of the conference. The teamsters' union will pick up the tab for organization costs. Hoffa says this is the smallest problem of organization.

Hoffa insists, however, that though the Teamsters will be paying the piper, they will not call the tune. Each international union will be given equal voting rights. "We won't have more voice than the smallest union," says Hoffa.

One by-product of the conference is seen here as an effort to build up a labor movement so strong that it will force President George Meany and the AFL-CIO hierarchy to take another look at their expulsion of the Teamsters.

This would be merely another effort by Hoffa to gain recognition and respectability as a labor leader.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — There were a few actor folk out to the house over the week-end and after I had followed Will Shakespeare's advice, spoken through Hamlet, to see the players well bestowed, we all got out on the brick terrace and stared at the Sound for awhile before getting down to nubs.

One of our nation's truly great — and there are precious few — actresses was working at a petit point chair cover and once she had got a rose finished and worked according to her tastes, she lit a conversational fuse: why was it that a series of French and Italian young film actresses with more natural endowments than actual talent could hornswoggle the public into accepting them?

"I THINK I have about 10 years left," she said, "and I have 50 more years of learning to do. That means I will end up owing my profession 40 years of work."

"I started when I was 17 in a tiny, disorderly touring company which only the forbearance of the public kept from being murdered. I learned to walk onto a stage and off it — and that's all. I starved in New York for an excellent reason: I had not learned my craft."

"In those days you learned the hard way: tours, stock, more tours, more stock and when you had done 15 years of this apprenticeship just maybe, just miraculously possibly, you got a tiny walk-on in New York."

"I HAVE BEEN very fortunate. A series of lucky roles have given me a prominence for which, in all truth, I am not ready and for which I feel guilt. I think I can say without being stuffy that I have never ceased to learn something about my profession in 42 years of earning my living in it. And I am getting good and sore about haughty young wenchies with over-ample development rising on the scene as actresses and stars."

"I worked 42 years to acquire the tools of stardom. Because Nature was generous with these kids in certain human areas they become triumphs. Why, they can't act their way out of a paper bag! A damp one, at that."

THE NAMES of two similarly endowed young women of cinema prominence were mentioned. "Oddly," she said, "one of them can act. She is a fine actress. She has slaved and toiled and labored to learn to act, which is the only way it can be done. And, poor baby, I feel for her. I feel sorry for her because she was thrust to fame on the basis of her physical adornments and that is the way the public sees her."

"She is too spectacular to be taken seriously. She mentioned once wanting to do a serious film. People laughed. Well, some other girl did the role this kid wanted and I'll tell you something straight out: the other girl was just terrible, and this girl would not have been. Yet, the makers of the film were right. She would not have been taken seriously in the part because of her appearance. She cannot help the way she looks and it will be a curse to her until she is too old."

"THE OTHER one cannot act, never will act and never should have been allowed to come as far as she has. Never. She is a stunt, not an actress."

"I think Marilyn Monroe is so much better an actress than most people ever will realize that it's a pity her explosive appearance is frustrating recognition for her. They have made a sex bomb of her, when the truth is that the youngster can act rings around a lot of more quiet looking women."

THE NAMES of five mingled French and Italian actresses were spoken.

"Two out of that lot can act," she said. "Only two. Gina is becoming a good actress. She has much to learn, but I promise you she will learn it. She has enormous appetite for learning and a talent to enrich her learning. The other one who is learning and has great drive and hunger to be accomplished is Loren."

"Sophia Loren will learn, is learning. The other three are cat-in-the-hat as far as I am concerned. One of them is so bad she is ridiculous. I'd think she would have more pride than to get up there and make a shambling fool of herself. I can watch Loren and Lolobrigida without feeling nausea. That French mix with the overhanging balcony drives me out of theatres. She is staggeringly impossible."

THEN TWO young American actresses of distinction were named.

"The hard way for them," she said. "They have tormented themselves with work, are as serious as a cliff, are becoming fine, fine actresses. They have no great physical endowments, one is not even pretty. But this girl — both of them — will dominate the American theatre in 10 years. They are awesomely talented."

Joey's Not In, Or So He Says

WASHINGTON.—Patting his dog in the back yard of his handsome home outside Chicago was Joe Aluppa, the celebrated manufacturer of loaded dice, lopsided roulette wheels, and marked playing cards.

Joe also makes this merchandise, when specified, to function honestly. He was, in any event, playing with his pup when up drove Joseph P. Kelly, sleuth of the Senate labor rackets committee, to hand him a subpoena ordering him to appear in Washington to testify under oath about gangsters muscling into union labor at vast profits to themselves.

Kelly said he was positive he saw Joe and the hound out behind the house. In the front window he saw a cutie, who turned out to be Joe's maid, identified as Marlene.

SO KELLY and his helper were about to hop out of their car to hand Joe the official pink slip when they were stopped by Mario, the gardener. Mario said his boss was busy. Investigator Kelly said yes, but he was a government man who wanted to see Joe for only a minute or even less.

Mario went to the front door, called Marlene, and asked her to see whether the boss would receive visitors.

"She said he wasn't there," Kelly told Senator John L. McClellan and Company.

Investigator Kelly had a heart-to-heart talk with Marlene. She said she'd look again. She returned a few minutes later to the window to announce:

"Joey says he's not in."

THIS MADE Kelly and his assistant detective suspicious. They looked in the back yard. Joe wasn't there, but they spied two Ford automobiles, one a shiny 1957 model and the other a beat-up 1951 job. Mario climbed into the new car and slowly drove into the street.

The hawkshaws asked Mario if he knew where Joe could be found. Mario said he had no idea. He drove sedately away.

"We figured that possibly Joe was curled up in the back trunk," Kelly said. "So I had my assistant get in our car and trail Mario. Then I walked into a clump of trees where I couldn't be seen."

In a couple of minutes Kelly spied Joe, himself, come bucketting from his driveway in the elderly Ford.

"I RAN OUT into the street with my credentials in one hand and the subpoena in the other," Kelly continued. "I tried to flag him down, but he was not having any. He kept coming, fast. I leaped just in time and that is the last I saw of Joe Aluppa."

Nobody else has seen Joe, either. The Senators may have to continue their inquiry without his assistance. That is not all. It developed that Joe had as a partner in the manufacture of gambling equipment (with the odds built in) a gentleman known as Claude Maddox, the big wheel in Local 450 of the Hotel, Club, Restaurant Workers and Bartenders Union.

EVIDENCE indicated that Maddox began his career as a member of the notorious Egan's Rats in St. Louis, moved into the big time with Scarface Al Capone in Chicago, and then branched out when the boss went to jail.

Investigator Kelly had no trouble issuing Maddox a subpoena, but that did no good. About a week ago, Maddox died.

"Where?" demanded committee counsel Robert Kennedy. "In bed," said Virgil Peterson, director of the Chicago Crime Commission.

"Wasn't that unusual?" inquired counselor Kennedy. "Very," replied crime expert Peterson.

All this proves one thing: Don't trust a gangster to honor a subpoena; he'll double-cross you every time.

So They Say

Suddenly the freighter . . . hits us amidstships . . . The water looks now as she all burning up. So I start swimming away from the fire and going to New York. I never swim so hard in my life . . . when I look back I see the terrible burning river.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — When producer Leland Hayward decided to film Ernest Hemingway's "The Old Man and the Sea," Hemingway warned him: "This one will be hard to do."

"You'll be dealing with the sun and the moon and the stars and fish and God. You're not used to dealing with these things. It won't be easy," he said.

Recalling the warning three years and five million dollars later, Hayward observed wryly: "The Lord knows he was right. I never spent so much time on one project."

The completed picture runs only an hour and a half. There are those in the industry who figure it may be as big a financial turkey as Hayward's last picture, "The Spirit of St. Louis," another five-million-dollar venture which failed to get off the ground.

HAYWARD, a former newspaperman and press agent who made his first million at 23 and went on to become one of Broadway's most fabulous producers, seems unworried.

"If you twisted my arm, I'd say we'll get our money eventually. This one can run forever," he said cheerfully.

"It should have a big world market. The book was translated into 42 languages. The theme is universal — that man is not made for defeat, that he can be destroyed, but not defeated. It sums up Hemingway's whole philosophy."

Hayward, who runs an airline among other sideline chores, is a philosopher as well as a producer.

He sometimes has the melancholy feeling that the American people have already lost out in the world struggle "because we let ourselves get too soft." He also believes U. S. ladies have gotten out of hand.

"OUR CULTURE is against the male," he said. "I think women are more honest and realistic and less sentimental than men. But I don't think as a rule American women are as attractive as other women. We ruin them by spoiling them. We men have corrupted them by killing ourselves working for them."

"They are now 60 per cent of the population, live several years longer than men, own 80 per cent of the wealth."

"In another 20 years they will own everything."

Well, wouldn't that solve a lot of problems and make for a better universe? Hayward shook his head.

"You can't blame women for thinking they should run the world," he said. "As a civilization, we have steadily spoiled them more and more, spoiled them to death."

"But women have failed in the bigger issues. They got the vote—but what have they done with it?"

"I am a pessimist about what they will do with total power, when they get it."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — As I reported in a couple of previous columns, the most potent and influential members of the Senate are often the least known. I have described three of the six solons I picked for my team of Senators Anonymous. I will now tell you about the three remaining Anonymouses.

The fourth man on my anonymity team has always made as few speeches as possible because he has an affliction almost unheard of in U. S. Senators. He stutters.

He tries to remain calm at all times, although it is a contradictory fact that Milton R. Young, of North Dakota, is safe from stammering only when he is thoroughly mad.

But the 61-year-old lawmaker is convinced that forensics aren't the aid to a Senator that they were in a bygone era.

"I don't think people pay as much attention to oratory as they used to," he told me. "I am finding my stuttering less and less of a senatorial liability."

SENATOR Young advanced a debatable theory as to why he became a stutterer.

"I was all right," he said, "until an old aunt came to stay at our house. I was a left-hander, and she determined to make me a right-hander. She kept at me until she cured me of being a southpaw, but the process rendered me so nervous I began stuttering."

The North Dakotan confided that he "automatically distrusts great orators," adding that "they rely so much on their ability to sway with words that usually they don't take the time and trouble to get the facts."

All the other members of my anonymity team refrained from naming names of fellow Senators they think overdo the oratory business, but my No. 5 man on the squad, George D. Aiken, of Vermont, came out flatly and declared that—in his opinion—Senators Estes Kefauver, of Tennessee; John F. Kennedy, of Massachusetts; and Hubert H. Humphrey, of Minnesota, talk too much.

I asked him if his opinion could be influenced by the fact that the trio belonged to the opposing political party. The 65-year-old New Englander grinned and replied that even if they were Republicans he'd find them too garrulous.

I asked Aiken why he kept in the background. Apparently the question was one that had been propounded to him before because he shot back the answer without hesitation.

"Notoriety," he declared, "is not consistent with statesmanship."

Senator Aiken summed up his senatorial philosophy in this sententious sentence:

"Long speeches in the Senate do not influence other members of the Senate because none of them are listening."

MY LAST Anonymouser is the oddest anomaly of all because Frederick G. Payne, of Maine, has spent his life in a business that does not consider publicity distasteful. Now 57, Payne has been in the theatre since he was fifteen. He began as a prop boy for Ed Wynn, in "The Perfect Fool."

Maine's only male Senator advanced to usher, billboard-paster, projectionist, and finally boss man of a chain of movie theaters in New England. He is an enthusiastic drumbeater for anything, and everything except himself.

In an election year, with many other Republican candidates taking a quite opposite stand, he has been defending Assistant to the President Sherman Adams.

I asked Senator Payne why, with so much politically at stake, he didn't do more drumbeating for himself. He replied: "I just don't feel that hallyhoo has any place in the Senate of the United States."

They're strange non-conformists—these Senators anonymous.

Two Auto Damage Suits Settled In Circuit Court

Two damage suits were settled in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday.

In one of them a $217.50 settlement was made between Shirley Lee Auvil and her parents, Raymond C. and Mary E. Auvil, 407 South Cedar Street, in the $500 suit against Foreman Thomas Saville Jr. and Foreman Thomas Saville Sr., 1013 Virginia Avenue.

The girl was a passenger in the car driven by young Saville and owned by his father when it wrecked near Springfield October 6.

The other suit for $1,000 was settled for $350. Carl Raymond Jeffries, an infant, by Cary G. Jeffries and Margaret E. Jeffries, his parents, and next friends, brought the suit against John Albert Robertson, Ralph A. Robertson, Edward F. Wilson and James E. Hare, trading as Hare Motor Sales.

This declaration states that the plaintiff was a passenger in a pickup truck owned by John Albert Robertson and operated by Ralph A. Robertson westerly on the Old Furnace-Patterson Creek Road in nearby Mineral County last September 21.

The Robertson truck and a car owned by Hare and driven by Wilson collided on the road causing Jeffries to sustain a fractured arm and other injuries.

Earlier Closing Set At Library

On Saturdays, the library will operate from 9 a. m. until 1 p. m. only. The longer hours will be resumed in September.

The two branch libraries in South Cumberland are operating 15 hours each week. At the Pennsylvania Avenue School branch, where Mrs. Ralph Rice is librarian, the hours are noon until 3 p. m., Monday through Friday. At the John Humbird School branch, where Mrs. Charles E. Aronhalt is librarian, the hours are 1 until 4 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Over 100 Boys To Attend 4-H Camp Session

Half Of Group Are Allegany County 4-H Club Members

The annual 4-H camp opens Sunday at Pleasant Valley Recreation Center in Garrett County with boys from four counties attending.

Assistant County Agent James B. Arnold, who will serve as camp director, said that the 101 4-H campers include 58 from Allegany County, five from Garrett County, 18 from Washington County and 20 from Frederick County.

The camp was named Algalwa some years ago, taking the first two letters from the names of the three western-most counties of this state. This year Frederick County is joining in for the first time but the camp name is not being changed. Frederick County 4-H leaders have expressed hope that a 4-H camp might be established next year in their own county.

Mr. Arnold will have as assistants on the camp staff, all of them assistant county agents. They include E. Rankin Lusby and Barry Carr, both Garrett County; Richard Shukraft and Merritt N. Pope, both Washington County; and David Eigenbrode, Frederick County.

The busy schedule for this camp which continues until Saturday, July 19, includes swimming, rifle safety and range practice, handicraft, study of wild life and forestry.

Allegany County boys registered for the annual camp include the following:

Francis Abbott, Douglas Airwood, Robert Alt, John Anderson, Fred Baker, James Blumhugh, Mike Bragg, Reed Clingerman, James Cosgrove, Gregory Crouch, Wayne Crowe, Edward Delbrook, William Elliott, Bill Ewing, Eddie Fisher, Robert Flora, Larry Fresh, Leroy Gable, Carl Garland, David Garland, James Garland, Steve Garland, Glendon Gnegy, Wesley Gordon, Frank Greise, Charles Griffith and Herb Heavner.

The five Garrett countians are Donald Bittinger, Rockie Swiger, Thomas Stanton, Charles Will Jr. and Charles DeVelbiss.

Pleasant Valley, now officially designated as the Western Maryland 4-H Club Center near Bittinger, also is the site for a number of other July camps. During the first week in July, Prince George's County 4-H girls and boys held their camp.

As soon as the 4-H boys from four counties leave the center July 19, older youth from Allegany and Garrett counties will arrive for the bi-county senior 4-H camp over that weekend. About 25 from this county have registered.

The 4-H Conservation Camp, scheduled from July 21 to July 26, at Pleasant Valley, will feature classes in forestry subjects, according to Harry W. Denglar, extension forester and camp program director.

Campers will learn about forestry and tree planting, Christmas tree growing, woodland im-

Argument By Elmo Gower Wins Freedom For Soldier

Elmo Gower, former resident who is now a practicing attorney at Silver Spring, won freedom for Pvt. Norman W. Swain, 41, at a military court hearing yesterday at Fort Meade.

Swain, who once was sentenced to 25 years at hard labor for wartime desertion, was convicted of a lesser charge of being absent without leave, and then freed because of a statute of limitations on the AWOL charge.

Stunned by the turn of events, Swain grabbed a friend's arm, walked out of the courtroom and into the PX for a cup of coffee.

Swain has been in Army custody since June 7, 1936, when a gendarme picked him up in Paris and turned him over to U. S. military authorities.

It was the story of a GI who took French leave intending to visit Paris for 48 hours but stretched out his absence to nearly 12 years.

Swain, whose home is in Southbridge, Mass., was charged with deserting the 3882d Central Postal Directory Co. at Chalon, France, on Sept. 14, 1944. A court-martial convicted him of desertion and sentenced him to 25 years. This sentence was reduced by higher Army authorities to six years.

Last Nov. 8, the U. S. Military Court of Appeals here set aside provement and forest fire fighting. They will go on a one-day conservation tour of Swallow Falls State Park, Herrington Manor State Park and farms in the area.

From July 26 to August 2, Allegany County 4-H girls will camp at the Garrett County center.

the conviction on the ground the military court's legal officer erred in failing to tell the court-martial that Swain could be convicted of the lesser AWOL charge. A retrial was ordered.

This took place Thursday, with Gower pressing the argument that Swain "was not a deserter because, while he admittedly left his unit, he did not intend to remain away permanently."

Wardensville To Consider Enlarging Town Boundaries

WARDENSVILLE — A public meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, July 22, at 7:45 p. m. in Wardensville High School auditorium to discuss the possibilities of enlarging the town boundaries.

Plans were made for the meeting at the first session of Wardensville's new town council Tuesday night. Present were Rev. Gordon Zirkle, mayor; Mrs. Madge Brooks, recorder, and Councilmen William I. Snyder, Beulah Heltzel, Lynn Orndorff, W. C. Orndorff and Ewell Kerr.

Rev. Zirkle was elected last month to succeed Otis Hines who has served as mayor for the past six years.

Council set the first Tuesday of each month as a meeting date, and an office will be located in the room next to the postoffice. It was announced that $900 was in the treasury as of July 1.

A committee composed of William Snyder, W. C. Orndorff and Beulah Heltzel was appointed to investigate and try out the fire pump project, and make recommendations to council at the next meeting. The mayor was instructed to contact state authorities about improving traffic conditions on Wardensville's main street. A police officer was not appointed at the present time.

George Reid, Petersburg, a representative of the state tax commissioner, attended the meeting and advised council on the licensing of businesses, hawkers and peddlers. Council agreed to adopt the license system used in Moorefield with some modifications.

Charges End In $25 Fines

Two local persons were fined $25 and costs yesterday on charges of providing false information to city police.

The sentences were imposed on Allen Emerick, 18, and Adrian Counihan, 27, after hearings before Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

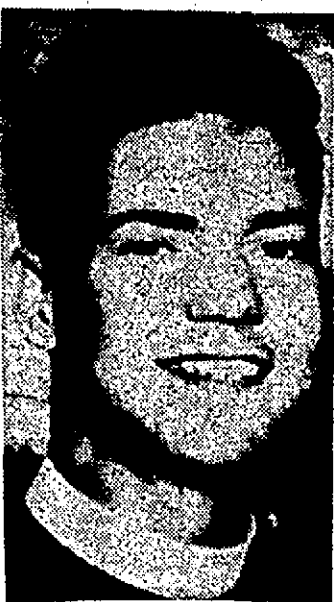

The hearing opened last Wednesday but were continued to allow the magistrate to get additional information about the man and youth.

The charges, according to Lt. James E. Van, resulted from false statements made by the pair following a fight June 28 in nearby West Virginia.

When first questioned, they said they were beaten in a fight in Cumberland. They later admitted the fight occurred in nearby West Virginia.

Hyde Here Tomorrow

Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde will be in his office in the Post Office tomorrow. No appointment is necessary for any constituent who may wish to consult with him.

ASSUMES DUTIES — Rev. Robert L. Leather, who was ordained June 17, has assumed his duties as assistant to Rev. H. M. Richardson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church. He will preach his first sermon at the 11 a. m. service Sunday, after which a reception will be held at the parish house. He is residing at 741 Fayette Street.

June Construction In County Hit $230,140

The Allegany County Assessing Department issued building permits for construction valued at $230,140 during June. There were 53 permits issued.

The first half of 1958 topped last year in both the number of permits issued and in the total builder-estimated cost of construction. This year there have been 199 permits in the first six months for total construction of $3,295,084.

Most of that construction cost was attributed to the waste treatment plant at Westernport to serve the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and the Tri-Towns. The listed cost was $2,308,254. Work started there in May.

Last year, the first half totals were 197 permits and $2,233,775, which is $61,309 below this half year's total. In 1957 the big permit was for the proposed $2,000,000 shopping center on Winchester Road for which construction still has not started.

The number of June permits—53—was the same number issued in April. Total estimated construction cost of $230,140 last month was below May's $2,450,554 and March's $303,475. Some 19 of the June permits were for relatively minor jobs, costing less than $1,000 each.

June building permits issued by the county assessing department authorized construction in 20 election districts around the county. The leader was Election District 20, the Corriganville-Ellerslie area, with seven. District 6, West Side suburban, and District 7, Cresaptown-Rawlings, were next with six permits each.

Coupled with five permits each were District 29, LaVale, the usual monthly leader, and District 3, Flintstone.

Other districts with more than one June permit were District 5, North End suburban, three; District 8, Westernport, three; District 16, North Branch, two; District 17, North Branch, one.

Magistrate Tells Man To Charge Police

Makes Suggestion Following Arrest Early This Morning

Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick angrily dismissed two charges against a local resident at a hearing this morning in Police Court and advised the man and his mother to prefer charges against the arresting officers.

The man, Glenn Landis, 32, of 416 Maryland Avenue, had to be subdued by four patrolmen when officers reportedly found him in suspicious circumstances early this morning. He was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest, which Magistrate Dick dismissed after Landis testified he had been struck by a man by an unidentified patrolman.

Officer James W. Bolyard informed the magistrate that he was driving down Maryland Avenue on a routine patrol when he noticed a man standing near a parked car. The officer further testified that in the course of questioning the man, he was answered with "I'll take the Fifth on that."

He informed Landis that he would have to go to headquarters under the circumstances, and called for reinforcements when he and his partner were unable to place Landis in the patrol car. Two other policemen arrived in the "Black Maria," and they supported Officer Bolyard's testimony, that Landis offered such resistance that it was almost impossible to get him into the police wagon. Landis also refused to walk upstairs to a cell and had to be carried, the police stated.

Landis' mother informed Dick that her son was watching a movie on television when she retired, and that she asked him to make sure her car was locked before he retired.

Following the hearing, the magistrate recommended Mrs. Landis have her son taken to a hospital for treatment and bill the city for any resulting charges. Landis is a veteran who has been hospitalized at the Baker VA Center in Martinsburg, W. Va., his mother said.

Three Nabbed As Runaways

Three runaways, two of whom were traveling together, are being held in the detention quarters at the Allegany County Infirmary, pending arrival of their parents.

Raymond Bishop, 16, and Albert Gaydos, 15, both of New Castle, Pa., were stopped last night when it was thought they had thrown a firecracker that exploded on South Liberty Street.

During the routine questioning, the boys revealed they had run away from their homes. Their parents have been notified and they are expected to return home today.

Picked up early this morning on the eastern outskirts of town was Klaus Gunther Lowry, 15, of El Paso, Texas. The youth volunteered that he was a runaway because he wanted to "see the country."

Lowry is of German origin and resides in El Paso with his mother and stepfather. He told officers that he had only gotten as far as Missouri when he last ran away.

The annual picnic of the Cumberland Outdoor Club will be held Sunday starting at 1 p. m. at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. John Durrett is in charge of the committee making arrangements.

TOP MARKSMEN—Two members of the Sixth Infantry Company, local Marine Corps Reserve unit, compare their scores at the Dam Neck (Va.) rifle range after the first day of firing during the company's annual summer field training. Pfc. Melvin G. Cline, 1211 Ella Avenue, was the top shooter with the M-1 rifle, while Sgt. Ronald D. Hansrote, 603 Williams Street, was the best marksman in pistol competition. The local Marine Reserve unit is training at Little Creek, Va.

High Scoring Recorded By Marine Unit

A high unit shooting average was scored by the 58 members of the Sixth Infantry Company, local Marine Corps Reserve unit, during a firing exercise at the Dam Neck, Va., rifle range.

The reserve unit is undergoing its annual summer training at the Little Creek (Va.) Naval Amphibious Base.

The top scorer on the pistol range was Sgt. Ronald D. Hansrote, 603 Williams Street, while Pfc. Melvin G. Cline, 1211 Ella Avenue, registered the best score with the M-1 rifle.

The company spent Wednesday crossing beach obstacles and practicing infantry company tactics. They also learned how to disembark safely from ships into assault landing craft.

On Monday, the company was instructed in the rudiments of amphibious organization, including boat team and assault wave structure.

Captain Billy C. Menges, commander of the local Sixth Infantry Company, was pleased with the way his men were responding to all phases of the annual field training. "During the first three days our men have demonstrated that they are capable of becoming the best Reserve Marines to train at Little Creek. To be frank, we're hoping to win the Reserve Trophy," he said.

The Reserve Trophy is awarded annually to the most outstanding of all units to train at Little Creek. Competition invariably runs high during the summer-long period.

The Cumberland reservists also were instructed in the newest concepts of vertical envelopment by helicopter. The company was organized into heli-teams and the men were airlifted by helicopter from their assembly area to a "battle point."

Later on the training cycle, the Reservists will learn how to discard clothing and equipment in the water while keeping themselves afloat. Men who have not yet learned to swim will practice water survival under the watchful eye of expert instructors. Early next week the Cumberland Marines will undergo rigorous physical conditioning along with bayonet fighting and marksmanship training.

Summer training for the unit will end next Friday with a full scale landing exercise.

The men of the Sixth will return to Cumberland on Saturday, July 19.

Scout Group Keeps Active

The troop of 30 boys and four leaders who left here last Saturday for Philmont Scout Ranch, Cimarron, N. M., have four days of their overland expedition past them at the vast Boy Scout reservation.

The group from Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will spend 12 days on trail as they trek through the mile-high back country.

All older Scouts, their Scoutcraft skills for outdoor living are being put to a strenuous test as they hike, ride horses and use pack mules during their two-week expedition.

According to word sent Willis Smith, Council executive, from Forest Riggs Sr., of Mountain Lake Park, one of the leaders, the boys spent Saturday sightseeing in Chicago.

Sunday they took a side trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., where they went to the top of Pike's Peak and to the Garden of the Gods.

Sunday night they stayed at the famed Koshare Indian Kiva at LaJunta, Colo., and arrived the next day at Philmont.

They will leave Philmont next Friday and arrive in Cumberland at noon, Sunday, July 20.

700 Expected To Attend Demo Dinner

BALTIMORE (AP)—State Democratic Party officials expect about 700 party members to attend tonight's harmony dinner.

John O. Rutherford, general secretary of the party's campaign for the November general election, said about this many Democrats had accepted invitations to the dinner, including winners and losers in the May 20 primary.

When George P. Mahoney, defeated candidate for the U. S. Senate nomination, conceived the idea of a harmony get-together, some party officials expressed the hope that 1,000 of the State's Democrats would attend.

The dinner will be an informal buffet affair in the ballroom of a downtown Baltimore hotel.

Rutherford said speeches will be delivered by J. Millard Taves, candidate for governor, Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, candidate for the U. S. Senate, and Louis L. Goldstein, running for State comptroller.

He said the three candidates defeated by D'Alesandro in the primary, James Bruce, Mahoney and Dr. Clarence D. Long, probably would speak. He said all candidates for Congress had accepted invitations to the affair.

County Asked For Various Road Changes

Gas Firm Plans To Construct Line In Eckhart Section

A number of requests were received today by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners concerning roads and water drainage.

Roy Seaber, of Westernport, appeared before the board to ask if something could be done about water draining onto a property he owns at Barton and which is part of the old Shaw farm.

Seaber explained he intends to lay out the tract into building lots and the water drainage from above a county road is making a part of the tract swampy. The matter was referred to the County Roads Department for a check and report back to the board.

Referred To Department

Mrs. William E. Walker, Mrs. Joseph Lough, and James Ricker requested the board to repair Avenue E and Avenue C in the Potomac Park section. The matter was referred to the Roads Department.

Margaret Wagner and Clara-belle Linger asked that repairs be made to Pershing Avenue in Potomac Park area. It was referred to the Roads Department.

Harry Warnick, Westernport, appeared before the board to ask that shale be applied to Poplar Street. He said the roadway is in bad condition. The matter was referred to the Roads Department.

The commissioners also received a request from Carl C. Robbins, manager of the C&A Gas Company for a permit to dig a three by 40-foot ditch along C Street in Eckhart.

To Watch Traffic

Robbins said the gas firm will replace 40 feet of two-inch gas pipe which is in a bad state of deterioration as a safety measure. The ditch will start at the intersection of State Route 638 and the street mentioned.

Robbins said all traffic safety measures will be taken and the roadway replaced to its former condition after the new pipe is installed.

The bid of the Sterling Electric Company to replace an electric circuit and install a new one and also replace two bracket lights in the office of the district forester at the Court House was accepted. The work will cost $92.

The Queen City Electric Company offered to do the work for $115.

County Gets Tax Report

Reports were received today by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners from the county tax collectors in the Frostburg and Lonaconing districts.

The reports listed the receipts from 1958 county and state taxes and also the amount of commissions received by each of the two men, Paul R. LaRue at Frostburg and James Holmes at Lonaconing.

LaRue's report lists 1958 county taxes paid totalling $265,509.98 and state taxes of $18,287.83. Discount allowed on county taxes totalling $12,275.45. LaRue's commission on the county taxes amounted to $3,759.45.

Holmes reported receipts of $403,304.92 in 1958 county taxes and $18,629.08 in state taxes. Discount allowance on county taxes totaled $20,165.25. Holmes' commission on county taxes totaled $4,404.89.

The county commissioners also received a request from Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of county schools, for $192,400 as the first installment on the 1958 fiscal appropriations for schools which began July 1.

The commissioners ordered that two checks be drawn with $96,200 being drawn from the Second National Bank and a like amount from the First National Bank.

Couple Files Damage Action

A Barton couple today docketed suit in Circuit Court through their attorney, Milton Gerson, for damages totalling $35,000 as the result of a car-truck crash February 7 at 3:45 p. m. on Douglas Avenue in Lonaconing.

Esther Jane Kyle is asking $25,000 damages for severe injuries she claims she suffered when she was thrown against windshield of her husband's station wagon when it was struck by a truck driven by David Lee Weir, of Lonaconing. The truck is owned by David W. Weir. They are the defendants in the two suits.

Mrs. Kyle's husband, Harrison Kyle, is asking $10,000 damages from the Weirs for medical and hospital expenses and the loss of the services of his wife in the crash. The declaration states that Mrs. Kyle was badly injured about the head and body and suffered from shock. She is still confined to her home and is unable to pursue her normal household duties, it was added.

Man Charged With Assault

A Rawlins man, only recently released from Mineral County Jail, Keyser, was scheduled for a hearing this afternoon in Trial Magistrate Court on assault charges resulting from the beating of a hitchhiker last March 24 near Lonaconing.

Linwood E. Thorn, 23, of Rawlings, had posted $500 bond for the hearing, according to Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator, who said the assault was made on the same evening of "general hell raising" that landed Thorn in the Keyser lockup.

Thorn and a group of Keyser area youths were charged with malicious destruction of property in Piedmont and also with an assault on a Tri-Towns man who was dragged along a Piedmont street after he went to the car in response to a question asked by Thorn and his companions.

After the case was heard in Mineral County Circuit Court, Judge Ernest M. See ordered a new investigation into the case under the direction of a special prosecutor.

Burdette One-Man Show As Braves Top Dodgers

Series Hill Hero Turns Slugger On Grand Slam

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
Lew Burdette, who took matters into his own hands for the Milwaukee Braves in the 1957 World Series, may be about to do the same for them in the currently snarled-up, National League pennant race.

The World Series hero, an in-and-out of the first half of this season, staged a one-man show at Los Angeles last night when he hit two homers, including a grand slammer, to lead the Braves to an 8-4 victory over the Dodgers.

Burdette's first homer, off Johnny Podres in the fourth inning, made him the only active NL pitcher with a grand slam to his credit.

CONGRATULATIONS FOR HERO — Actress Lauren Bacall, one of more than 40,000 persons on hand last night for the Dodgers-Braves games in Los Angeles, has a big smile as she congratulates smiling Lew Burdette. The Milwaukee pitcher hit two homers, one a grand slam, in 8-4 victory.

A month from now, even less, many baseball fans will be unable to name the date on which Baltimore played host to the 1958 All-Star game. But there's one local young man who probably will never forget.

Bill Brode was in Baltimore Tuesday when the top stars of the American and National Leagues were colliding in their memorable "game of singles" but he didn't get close to Memorial Stadium. While the diamond battle was raging, Bill was in the process of being inducted into the Marines.

Brode, fresh out of Allegany High School where he was a regular on the baseball team for two years, was one of 28 from this area making the trip. Fourteen were accepted.

Named Allegany's most valuable player in his senior year, Bill showed off Wednesday for Parris Island, S. C., where he will be given his "boot training."

Brode was an infielder for the Campers, playing every position except first base.

Forbes Field Longer

For the benefit of a group of local baseball players arguing yesterday about the sizes of major league parks, Pittsburgh has a longer center field than Washington.

In fact, Forbes Field is second only to Yankee Stadium in this respect — and then only by four feet. Baseball's Official Guide shows the distance from home plate to dead center in Pittsburgh as 457 feet. Yankee Stadium is 461.

Griffith Stadium is only 401 feet, although the farthest point in the Washington park is in right-center where the distance is 438.

Forbes Field also boasts the longest left-field barrier in the majors, being 365 feet from home. Seals Stadium in San Francisco likewise has a 365-foot left field but here the batters aiming for that wall are always aided by a favorable wind (called a jet stream by the players).

San Francisco also has the longest right-field wall—355.

Perhaps these figures (taken from the 1958 Guide) on the distances at all major league parks will help settle some friendly disputes.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Baltimore—Center, 410; right, 309; left, 309.

MacKay Scores Easy Cup Win

TORONTO (AP)—Whitney Reed of Alameda tried to give the United States its second straight singles victory and a commanding lead in the semi-finals of the American Zone Davis Cup competition today. He meets Canadian champion Bob Bedard of Sherbrook, Quebec.

The opening singles match Thursday resulted in an easy victory for Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, over Don Fontana of Toronto, 6-1, 6-2, 7-5. The Reed-Bedard match was postponed by rain.

The competition is three out of five, with the doubles set back to Saturday and the other two singles matches to be played Monday. A victory for Reed today would make it 2-0, and the United States would have to take only the doubles or one more singles match to clinch its place in the zone final against Israel, Argentina or the West Indies.

Ralph Felton Goes To Pittsburgh Steelers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers last night announced the acquisition of line-backer Ralph Felton, 26, of Midway, Pa., from the Washington Redskins for an undisclosed draft choice.

Felton, a former University of Maryland fullback, had been with the National Football League Redskins for the past four seasons.

The victory enabled the Braves to go 1½ games ahead of the second-place San Francisco Giants who were beaten, 4-0, by Bob Purkey and the Cincinnati Reds. The Philadelphia Phillies moved into third place with a 13-3 rout of the St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-7, in other NL games.

Boxing In Second

In the American League, the New York Yankees opened up an 11½-game margin by sweeping a day-nighter from the Cleveland Indians, 7-4, and 4-3. The Boston Red Sox crushed the Chicago White Sox, 11-2, and took over second place when the Baltimore Orioles swept the Kansas City Athletics, 6-3 and 3-2, while the Washington Senators downed the Detroit Tigers, 5-3.

A crowd of 40,308 at Los Angeles booted Burdette, who got into frequent disputes with umpire Shag Crawford over ball-and-strike calls but went the distance with an 11-hitter. The win squared his record at 7-7 while the loss was Podres' eighth in 16 decisions.

Burdette hit his grand slam in the fourth inning after the Braves filled the bases on a single by Del Crandall. Johnny Logan's double and an intentional walk to Andy Pafko. The blow went over the Coliseum's short left-field screen and Felix Mantilla followed with another in the same spot to put the Braves ahead, 5-0.

Purkey Wins Tenth
Purkey shut out the Giants for the second time this year and won his 10th game for the Redlegs with a neat seven-hitter. Frank Robinson homered and also singled in a run for the Redlegs while Johnny Temple and Don Hoak each had two hits.

Al Worthington suffered his fourth loss.

Harry Anderson and Richie Ashburn collected a total of seven hits and drove in eight runs as the Phillies scored their eighth win in nine games. Anderson had a homer and two singles to knock in five runs and Ashburn a double and three singles to drive in three. Robin Roberts pitched a nine-hitter behind a 13-hit attack for his seventh win.

The Cubs survived a five-run Pittsburgh rally in the ninth as Taylor Phillips won his sixth game and Vern Law lost his seventh. Frank Thomas hit two homers and Dick Stuart one for the Pirates while Lee Walls homered for the Cubs.

Jensen Hits 25th
Elston Howard knocked in three runs with a fourth-inning triple and an eighth-inning single as the Yankees rallied to win their day game. Relief pitchers Johnny Kucks and Ryne Duren held the Indians to one hit over the last 5½ innings. In the night game, Jerry Lumpe's two-run double was the big blow of a four-run eighth inning New York rally and Duren again came in to the rescue with his flame-thrower in the ninth.

Jackie Jensen paced a 13-hit Red Sox attack with a grand slam homer and two other hits to make it easy for Frank Sullivan to win his seventh game. Jensen now leads the majors with 25 homers and 72 runs batted in. Early Wynn suffered the loss for the White Sox.

Billy O'Dell, AL All-Star hero, snuffed out a ninth-inning threat in the first game for the Orioles and Arnold Portocarrero pitched a five-hitter in the nightcap. Al Pilarcik knocked in three runs in the first game and Billy Gardner singled home the winning run in the second.

Roy Sievers, Clint Courtney and Jim Lemon homered for the Senators. Pedro Ramos winning his seventh game with ninth-inning relief help from Dick Hyde.

Basilio-Aragon Bout Set Back To Sept. 5

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Carmen Basilio-Art Aragon bout has been set back to Sept. 5 because of a conflict in dates with the Floyd Patterson-Roy Harris heavyweight championship fight.

The 12-round fight between Aragon and the ex-middleweight champ originally was set for Aug. 28. The heavyweight bout will be Aug. 18. Both fights will be outdoors at Wrigley Field.

Orioles Take Fifth Place With Sweep

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics go into tonight's game with the Baltimore Orioles with a shaky hold on third place, thanks to a former teammate.

The A's dropped the second game of yesterday's two-night doubleheader 3-2 on Arnold Portocarrero's five-hitter. The Orioles obtained the big right-hander from Kansas City last April.

Baltimore also won the opening game 6-3 and skipped up to fifth place in the American League standings, two games behind second-place Boston.

Ramshaw To Start
Jack Ramshaw (6-7) is scheduled to start for Baltimore tonight at Memorial Stadium against A's starter Murray Dickson (6-3).

Last night's triumph was Portocarrero's first win over his former teammates and upped his season's record to 7-5. He had a three-hit shutout going into the ninth inning but, after two outs, Bob Cerv slammed his 23rd homer of the season and Roger Maris followed with his 12th four-bagger. Then Hector Lopez grounded out to end the game.

The Orioles scored one run off loser Dick Tomaneck in the sixth and two more in the eighth off reliever Bob Grim. Tomaneck's record now is 4-4.

Milt Pappas, 19-year-old Orioles hurler, had a no-hitter going for 5 1/3 innings of the opening game but left in the seventh after giving up three hits and two runs. His record stands at 6-2. Bud Daley, recently recalled from Buffalo, was the loser and has a 1-1 record.

O'Dell Stops Surge
Billy O'Dell, the final American League pitcher in the All-Star game who hurled perfect ball the last three innings, was called in the ninth to halt the late-surge A's. He got Joe Denastri to fly out with runners on first and third.

Three Baltimore runs in the first game were knocked in on a pair of doubles by Al Pilarcik. Jim Busby drove in two more with a bases-loaded single.

The game marked the 24th appearance of O'Dell either as a starter or reliever in 78 Baltimore games this season. His next appearance is scheduled tomorrow when the Orioles and Athletics conclude a four-game series.

Although held to four hits, Elks edged Eagles, 7-5, in a Frostburg Little League clash yesterday. Bobby Thompson scattered six hits for the winners and fanned a dozen.

Donnie Richards paced Elks with three of his club's four safeties. Tommy Husebaugh, the loser, struck out 10 and led the Eagles at the plate with a double and single. Mike Pantuso and Greg Harper socked doubles.

Elks: 601 302-7 4, 2
Eagles: 011 120-5 6, 1
Thompson and G. Sittig, Husebaugh and G. Harper.

Burdette Only Active NL Pitcher To Hit Grand Slam

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lew Burdette may be best remembered for his three stunning victories over the Yankees in the World Series, but today he holds another distinction unique among National League pitchers.

The lean Milwaukee right-hander hit a grand-slam home run that just plopped over that Coliseum curiosity—the left field screen—as the Braves were beating Los Angeles 8-4 Thursday night before a crowd of 40,308.

This sent the statisticians leafing through their archives and when the investigation was completed they announced that no other pitcher now active in the National League has ever hit a grand-slammer. They didn't check the inactive list.

But Burdette wasn't through yet. He came up in the eighth inning and hit another homer, this one a little more respectable but still of somewhat shorter range than the average artillery shot.

"I wasn't swinging for the fence," Burdette admitted later in the dressing room. "I was just swinging. The first one was a curve ball (thrown by Johnny Podres) that hung letter high.

"The other one was a high fast ball (delivered by Ed Roebuck). I just saw a ball and swung, and what do you know?—there it was."

A curious feature of Burdette's achievement is that in seven-plus seasons in the National League he has hit only two other home runs, and he got both of them in one game too, last Aug. 13 at Cincinnati.

Crawford Faces Ortega Tonight

"I'll have plenty of time for painting later," said Mickey as he awaited the bell for his important 10-round television tilt with Mexico's Indian Ortega at Madison Square Garden tonight. "If I can win the welterweight title I'll have enough money to take care of my painting career."

Mickey has won four straight, moved into the top ten rankings, and is the 7-5 choice over Ortega, also a contender. His record is 22-2. Ortega, a free-swinging fighter, has a 46-12 record, including 20 knockouts.

Caseys Grab Third Place, Vets Victors

Knights of Columbus moved into third place in the Rocking Chair Softball League yesterday, whipping Celanese 6 to 2 while the pacing VFW team pushed over five runs in the second extra inning to trim Pittsburgh Plate Glass by an 8-3 count.

The second-place Elks punched over three runs in the first, then fought off a Ritter AC last-inning rally to grab a 3-2 decision in the day's other contest.

Pete Elliott tossed a five-hitter in pitching the Vets to their 12th win in 14 starts. It was Pete's sixth win against no defeats.

The Vets loaded the bags in the ninth on walks to Elliott and Phil Reuschel and a single by Ted Durbin. Bill Thompson, who had duelled Elliott on even terms through the first eight innings, dished out his third walk of the day to force over the tie-breaking run. Vern Penner drove in two more runs with a single and one-bagger by Ronnie Cagle and Bub Porter sent in the last two.

Cage, Penner, Porter and Reuschel each had two hits for the Vets. One of Cage's safeties was a homer while Penner had a double. George Stevenson smacked a two-bagger for the Glassmen.

Celanese, which suffered its 15th straight defeat, grabbed a 2-0 lead in the second on a pair of walks, a single by Blackie Black and two Casey errors. But in the third, Knights of Columbus tallied three times on Bob McGreevey's long home run that traveled to the fence in left field with Mickey Clark on base, George Geatz's double and a single by pitcher Allan Sheetz.

Sheetz turned in a five-hitter and struck out six as he registered his sixth win against two losses. The Knights collected nine hits off the slants of "Shuck" Shuck, Geatz, with two for three, was the only player in the game to get more than one hit.

In the Elks' big first inning, "Pooch" Orndorff walked and pitcher Dick Klavuhn clouted a homer. Bob Pence singled and Ted Rowan sent him across with the Elks' last tally of the game on a triple.

Roy Manges and Ted Rowan had two hits each for the Elks and "Whip" Kreitzburg excelled behind the plate.

Ritter's scored two runs in the final stanza on hits by Jack Martin, "Rags" Morgan and Jack Ritter but Leo Rhodes was cut down at the plate as he tried to score the tying run.

Martin accounted for three of Ritter's eight hits.

Barrelville Streak Gets Pair Of Tests

Salisbury and Grantsville get their cracks at the winning streak of pacing Barrelville in the Pen-Mar Baseball League over the weekend as the circuit has a full card listed for tomorrow and Sunday.

The Old Exports, with a game lead over Hyndman, will langle with the Pennsylvanians on the Keystone diamond tomorrow and then are host to third-place Grantsville Sunday. Barrelville, with a 14-2 record, has taken its last six games.

Win Opener, 13-0
Included in the season record of the Old Exports is a 13-0 shutout over Salisbury. The Cardinals, who have split in 16 appearances, have lost five of their last seven outings and are in fourth place, a half game in front of Mt. Savage.

Hyndman's Merchants, with their 13-3 record and wins in seven of their last eight tries, will be at Zihlman while Grantsville's Sluggers invade Wellersburg and Savage is host to Flintstone tomorrow.

The Sluggers hold a pair of triumphs over Wellersburg, taking 10-6 and 5-1 verdicts. Grantsville is only two games out of a first-place tie with a 12-4 showing. Wellersburg has had trouble all season and has been able to punch out only four victories in 17 games.

Zippers Beaten Twice
Hyndman, keeping on the heels of the Old Exports all season, goes for its third victory in many attempts when invading Zihlman. The Zippers, who are 6-11 overall, were beaten, 7-0 and 4-3, in previous games with the Merchants. Zihlman has dropped its last two tilts.

"Savage, hoping to get back into the race, has reeled off two straight triumphs while Flintstone has been beaten in its last 14 attempts. Three of the eight conquests by the Old Germans have been at the expense of the Farmers in close clashes, 5-2, 4-3 and 4-3.

The other three tilts on Sunday will have Hyndman being host to Mt. Savage, Wellersburg at Flintstone and Salisbury invading Zihlman. All games will start at 2:30 p. m.

Ted Sees Nellie Batter To Beat

BOSTON (AP) — Boston slugger Ted Williams thinks Chicago's Nellie Fox is the man to beat for the American League batting championship.

Williams, who captured the title last year with a .388 average, called Fox "a real fine hitter" as the White Sox second baseman took batting practice before Thursday night's game.

Fox currently is hitting .322, four points behind Vic Power of Cleveland and three behind Bob Cerv of Kansas City. Williams, who got off to his poorest start this year, has upped his mark to .313.

Subpoena Mystery Solved, Mitt Matchmaker Indicted

NEW YORK (AP) — The mystery of the wholesale serving of subpoenas the night of the Virgil Akins-Isaac Logart fight last March 21 has been solved with the indictment of boxing matchmaker Jimmy White.

The 51-year-old New Yorker was named Thursday by a grand jury on charges of conspiracy to fix the bout in question, and acting as an "undercover manager" for Logart. He pleaded innocent and was released on $2,500 bail.

The jury also linked Herman (Hymie the Mink) Wallman in the indictment as a coconspirator but not as a defendant. Last week, in an indictment returned against boxing judge Bert Grant, Wallman also was named as a coconspirator.

Ironically, the fix attempt on the Akins-Isaac bout failed to come off. The conspiracy count accused White and Wallman of acting in concert in planning to bribe certain officials, one of whom was expected to be Grant. However, Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan's office said none of those expected to be named officials was assigned to the fight and no bribe overture was made to the officials who did serve.

Akins, far behind, rallied to knock out Logart in the sixth round of their welterweight elimination bout. Akins then knocked

Memphis Mite 'Big Man' In Publix Golf

CHICAGO (AP)—The Memphis mite is on another golfing rampage.

You'd think Junie Buxbaum, 5 feet 6½ inch, 128-pound auto salesman, was the calmest competitor in the National Public Links tournament. It's hard to realize that in the past he twice gave up the game in disgust.

Junie, taking back slaps from his 18-year-old son, David, today tees off against bulky Bob Ludlow, a 220-pound Indianapolis physical education instructor, in the 36-hole semifinal.

Dan Sikes of Jacksonville, Fla., 27-year-old law student in the University of Florida and former All-Army golf champion, faces Bob Patterson, the stocky steevedore from Portland, Ore., in the other semifinal.

The 36 hole windup Saturday will bring the winners together.

In double rounds Thursday, Sikes eliminated defending champion and medalist, Don Essig of Indianapolis, 5 and 4, and Al Kelley of Orlando, Fla., 3 and 1.

Patterson took Bob Kleitke of Chicago in 19 holes and Harry Musato of Macomb, Ill., 4 and 3.

Buxbaum, the 1956 Public champion and a 1937 quarterfinalist, methodically advanced with a 3 and 2 decision over Warren Strout of Speedway, Ind., and a 4 and 2 victory over Bob Faulkenberry of Oklahoma City.

Ludlow defeated Charles Kline, Roswell, N. M., 4 and 3, and Ron Luceti, San Francisco, 2 and 1.

ON TARGET—Contestants in the Midwest Archery Championship in St. Louis made a pretty picture. Among them were Mrs. Ann Clark, left, defending and former national champion, and Mrs. Senda Roff.

Kennell's Mill will be host to Homewood Tavern to round out the schedule. Kennell's has an 11-7 mark to hold third place while Homewood is in the cellar with a 3-15 log.

Lions To Play LaVale Today

Pacing Cresaptown, winner in its last five games, goes after its sixth straight triumph and 12th in 14 starts this evening in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League when tangling with third-place LaVale on the latter's diamond.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I like to take rides in the car on the summer evenings. We are friends with another couple who are neighbors and they usually go with us and we stop for a shake or sundae or something. My problem is that my wife always puts the other man in the front seat with me and she gets in back with the neighbor lady. They talk like a pair of hens and don't have anything to talk to this man about. The women don't let me turn on the radio because they can't hear each other. What is your advice?

DEAR BORED: Tell your wife in so many loving words that the reason you married her was because you liked her company. Ask her to ride in the front with you and gab with the lady friend on her own time.

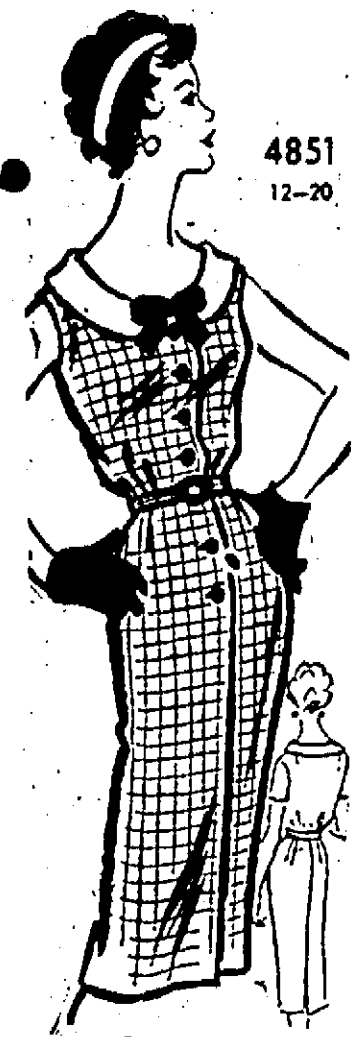

DEAR ABBY: I am a widower 76 years of age and in good health. The last three years I've been thinking of taking a trip to my home town in Italy. I have my own money, to go with and the only thing that's holding me back is that my children are very much against my going. They think I'm too old to travel alone. I keep telling them when I came here I came alone, so what's the difference? Should I go?

DEAR FROSNONE: If you are in good health and have your own money, you don't need permission from your children. Tell them you can take care of your self, and Frosonone had better watch out!

DEAR ABBY: What can be done about smalltown gossip? have a daughter who is 17 and if what people are saying about her is true, I think I ought to have a long talk with her. She's a senior in high school, is very popular with the boys (not girls) makes average grades and has always been very quiet and secretive about her personal affairs. She's in the house every night by eleven. I hate to write this but people have said they heard she is the fastest girl in town. Should I ask her about this or ignore the gossip?

DEAR MOTHER: What people say about your daughter (true or false) constitutes her reputation, and should not be ignored. You

Spades Are Lucky Suit

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The late P. Hal Sims claimed that superstition had no place in a card game, but if he did have a lucky suit it was spades.

Of course, that is a pretty good superstition to have since the spade suit outranks all others and the man with spades can outbid anyone else.

In a recent duplicate most North players liked their defense against hearts to such a great extent that they stayed out of the bidding and watched their vulnerable opponents bid and make an easy heart game.

Frank Farley of Fort Worth chose to make a light takeout double and his partner Bill Shurtliff went on to four spades which East doubled.

West opened the ace of diamonds and continued the suit. Bill ruffed in dummy and played the king of spades. East took his Play Safe While You Drive!

Keep alert—chew gum

Avoid traffic jitters and driving drowsiness. Chew gum while you're behind the wheel. Chewing helps relieve strain and tension—helps keep you feeling fresh and alert for safer driving.

Chew any brand of gum you like but chew while you drive. Naturally, we recommend Wrigley's Spearmint Gum—for lively, satisfying flavor and real chewing enjoyment.

Maryland U. Dismisses 600 Students

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Nearly 600 University of Maryland students have been mailed dismissal notices for failure to meet the university's new academic standards.

The group receiving the notices represents 7.69 per cent of the 7,789 full-time undergraduate students enrolled in the spring semester at the campus here. Another 5.42 per cent of the students have been placed on academic probation.

The number of dismissal notices is about the same proportionately as was sent at the end of the fall semester. At that time, 601, or about 7 per cent of the 8,597 students, were dropped.

Students receiving dismissal notices—those failing more than half of their number of subjects—may appeal during the summer to a faculty board. Dr. R. Lee Hornbake, dean of faculty estimated about 25 to 33 per cent would be reinstated. He pointed out that some students fail because of illness or circumstances beyond their control.

The Murray and Mankamer family reunion will be held Sunday at White Oak Church, near Wellersburg, Pa., at 9 a. m. Each family is to bring a basket of food.

Man Questioned In Lake Murder

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Police authorities still had one young man in custody at the Monongalia County jail today and were questioning him in connection with the murder of a company store manager whose body was found in Cheat Lake.

County authorities released another young man held for questioning yesterday and said last night that they may have new evidence about how Orville Campbell died.

The bound, gagged and weighted body of the 32-year-old man was discovered in the lake Tuesday by two men and a boy walking across the West Penn Branch Railroad bridge.

British historian Edward Gibbon completed his "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" in 1787.

Land Dispute Case Started

The SRC took 41 of an acre in the rear of the Maury property. Milton Gerson is attorney for Maury while William Walsh represents the SRC.

D. C. Goodfellow, local realtor, testified concerning the valuation he placed on the property. He said the entire property before the taking of the strip of 41 of an acre was $7,655.40 and after the taking the property valuation was $7,162.49. He said the total damage based on his survey was $653.20.

A jury was taken to the scene of the land dispute and viewed the property.
